JUST A FEW OF THE COMMENTS RECEIVED FROM THE AUDIENCE AT OUR FIRST ONLINE APM/AV ADJUDICATION

Very well organised and whilst it does not beat actually being there it is an exceptionally good alternative. Just a couple of observations, it was probably an hour too long and it would have been useful to have had a list beforehand of the sequences to be shown. Minor points to an otherwise great day.
Bob

I thought that the day was organised very well and was presented as well as could be expected. There were minimal connection issues and could see and hear what was going on fine.

Luckily, I was online to see the comments on my sequences which were shown before and not after lunch as I was prepared for. In future, it would be better to run to the schedule.
Steve

Although there were a few hiccups at the start, it seemed to go smoothly from then on and, from our point of view, the sequences played well. There were a few dissolves that were not completely smooth, but it did not seriously affect the message of the sequence or our enjoyment.

We know a lot of people are sad about not being able to meet together, but we believe Zoom has so much to offer for an event like this. How else would the PAGB be able to showcase the AV Awards to 200 people in one day?
Clive and Joan

Great day today. Not sat in before on an adjudication for APM/AV. Some really good sequences and all very well run considering it was the first time online.
Nick

I did enjoy the whole day very much indeed, but regarding the entries, I was disappointed in the lack of good blending of images and the production of third images. These used to be the staple requirement, and half the fun was getting it right in the camera. It should be so much easier in digital, with cropping being so easy.

Even decent pictures with music and/or script does not always add up to a good sequence, i.e. the whole is not greater than the sum of the parts.
Howard

The advent of Zoom has meant that the audience can potentially be much larger than for a physical meeting and, for me, that is one of the great advantages of having it online. I would not have travelled to Exmouth, even if that had been possible.

Another advantage of seeing the AV's on Zoom is that it gives more ability to make notes than would be possible in a physical meeting in the dark. The picture quality may be less but as the judges have been able to view the AV's on their own computers, and not via Zoom alone, then we have confidence that they have seen the true quality of the images.

I thought the whole thing was very well organised. OK there was a small hitch at the start, but that's a minor issue.

What was great was to be able to see all 37 entries and hear the Adjudicators' comments
Bob

I tuned in just after 10am this morning and was there to the last – a great deal of variety, interesting and inspiring work on show. A most enjoyable day for me and, without Zoom, I would never have been able to attend the assessment in person, so I felt the day was a great success for those of us living away from the centres of excellence.

I think it was vital that the Adjudicators saw the AVs in advance as, despite my own high quality screen and cable broadband delivery, I could see some loss of quality on occasions which I imagine was never present in the originals.
Sue

Over 200 attending, you must be very pleased !! It all went very smoothly.
Gordon

The scale from CPAGB through to MPAGB was exceptionally interesting, though it must have been exhausting for the judges, who were very clear on their feedback.

I am a fan of Zoom - over the last year I have watched over 50 Zoom lectures/workshops from a wide variety of clubs, shops and organisations.

Some better than others, but today was so enjoyable with 'presentation' being an objective for the applicants, there was no hiccup from poor audio or time-wasting. The breaks were perfect and gave those who wanted to chat the opportunity to do so.
Cathy H

I thought my heart was going to burst through my rib cage and splatter onto my screen with fear as I sat waiting my "turn"!
Cathy F

It was an enthralling day. The quality of transmission on my screen, was very good, with only one or two minor glitches. I would have liked more comments from the Adjudicators but accept that time did not allow for this.
Richard

Even though the quality on Zoom wasn't always as brilliant as it might be, it did enable me to enjoy the work from the comfort of my home without travel.
Jack

When I got my CPAGB back in 2016, being in the hall and having the sound system and big screen did make all the difference.

So when normality returns and you're back in a hall maybe you could look into having a payable Zoom option for those that cannot get to the live event?
Andrew

Many congratulations to Ian, Rod and your Adjudicators for such an enthralling and enjoyable day.
Mike

Thank you to the PAGB for doing this via Zoom and allowing us to watch! We have seen very little AV work and so had little idea what the standard was. The day was fascinating, and we thoroughly enjoyed it! The standard was a lot better than the slightly cheesy ones we've seen before.
Sharon & Tim

I thought yesterday's adjudication went very smoothly on the whole. The AVs suffered occasionally from a bit of jitter in transitions but that was to be expected. The adjudicator's comments were useful and interesting. The programme breaks were appropriate and, all in all, it was a very enjoyable day. Interesting to see how high the photographic quality had to be to meet the standards. Gwynneth

Russians may be expelled from Rio hours before the start

By Ben Rumsby

THE start of the Olympics is in danger of being plunged into chaos by the Russian doping crisis after the International Olympic Committee admitted that a final ruling on the expulsion of the country's athletes may not be made until hours before Friday's opening ceremony.

A string of appeals against bans already imposed on Russian competitors also threatened to derail the launch of Rio 2016, the build-up to which has been marred by fallout from arguably the worst drugs scandal in history.

The IOC's president yesterday insisted it was not to blame for the unprecedented shambles, declaring it the fault of the World Anti-Doping Agency (Wada).

Thomas Bach snapped at suggestions the committee's response to the crisis had been a huge failure, claiming it was "very obvious" where responsibility lay as a result of the "timing" of the Wada-commissioned report, which found Russia guilty of state-sponsored doping and a cover-up on a staggering scale.

The IOC says three executive board members will have the final say on the participation of individual athletes and will make a decision by Friday.

With competition starting in earnest on Saturday, that may not leave enough time for replacements from other nations - and potentially whole teams in certain sports - to be drafted in.

The IOC had refused to throw Russia's entire team out of Rio 2016, instead ordering international federations to select which of the country's competitors fulfilled strict criteria.

Last week saw a wave of expulsions of former drugs cheats and athletes but, as it stands, close to three-quarters of the nation's original near-400 delegation are still going to the Games.

Amateur Photographer of the Year 2021

of MPB prizes to be won

Enter now to win some fantastic prizes for yourself and your club, and be crowned Amateur Photographer of the Year 2021

A Amateur Photographer magazine's annual photo contest has been running for nearly 40 years and this year we have introduced the chance for Britain's camera clubs to take part. With ten rounds on different themes there's something for everyone. You score points if you make the shortlist of the best images in any round. The person with the most points at the end takes home the big prize and, of course, the title of Amateur Photographer of the Year 2021. But every time you score points your club also gets those points. The more members who enter and get short-listed the more points your club will accumulate.

The competition is open to all amateur photographers and will again be hosted on Photocrowd's simple, intuitive platform. It's a brilliant way of getting your photos in front of a wider audience.

Providing an amazing £11,000 worth of prizes this year is MPB, the online platform for used photography kit. First prize for each round is £500 voucher which can be spent on anything at MPB, with £100 and £50 vouchers going to second and third place respectively. The overall APOY 2021 winner receives a voucher for £1,000.

There is also a Young APOY category, with a prize of £250 aspiring photographers under the age of 21.

The Camera Club Award

Do you belong to a UK camera club? For every point you and your club colleagues score in APOY your club also gets those points. After all ten rounds are complete the club with the most points wins a voucher for £500 to spend at MPB. The club can spend it on gear for use by its members, or as a prize for its own in-house contest – it's entirely up to the winning group to decide.

YOUR VERY SPECIAL MASTERS OF PRINT BADGE

This handsome badge was specially commissioned to be worn with pride by those accepted into the Exhibition. It has only been available at PAGB events, with the recipient autographing their photograph in the Archive Catalogues to be lodged, with our other archives, in the Birmingham Central Library.

There were virtually no such opportunities in 2021 and we have no idea when the next public event can be held. Some have not yet been able to collect their badge and the delay is getting a little silly.

If you would like your badge to wear at Online Events or just to impress your children, send me two small white labels, each with your signature, and I will post your badge to you. Best of all, include the two labels in your entry to the current MASTERS OF PRINT.

ANNE SWEARMAN ARPS EFIAP DPAGB APAGB PPSA APSA

The Club was very sad to hear of the passing of our most respected member, Anne Swearman. Anne has been involved in photography for most of her life, starting at school where she won a photographic contest in the school magazine. Using her father's plate camera and with some help from her father, she developed her technique in the art of printing. This included making an enlarger using a spiral from the dining table to provide a means of adjustment.

In the 1950s, Anne joined the Newcastle Photographic Society, but with her independent spirit, she found it was not for her. Indeed, for many years, she could see no benefit in joining a photographic organisation, but photography was still in her heart. As with most people, hobbies must take a back seat when they get married. It was no different for Anne when she married the love of her life, Morrice. The next few years were spent raising a marvellous family, but the photographer was waiting in the wings.

One of Anne's other passions was fell walking which provided material for her pictures and Art Appreciation, which gave her ideas and inspiration, reflected in her work. Her main outlet for her images initially was the Women's Institute. She gave talks illustrated by slides which eventually developed into Audio Visual productions. So successful was she that she represented the Area W.I. in a National competition. Anne also had many pictures accepted for the W.I. calendar. Later, advancing her AV talents, she became an active member of the Northern AV Group, showing some wonderful sequences.

Two dates stand out in the Whitley Bay Photographic Society's history, 1951 when the club was formed & 1981 when Anne joined. Anne threw herself into the club scene, winning the Beginners Championship. Anne continued her success in club competitions in the following years, winning the Intermediate & Advanced sections. She was also to hold many positions on the administrative side of the club, becoming President from 1987 to 1989 and she was an active member of the committee right up to the end.

There is also a Facebook page, "Memories of Anne Swearman" for any tributes you care to leave.

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/756125808351095>

At Federation level, Anne was Area Representative, Social Secretary and Editor of "Northern Focus", which she transformed from a newsletter to a proper magazine, winning a prestigious award from the PSA. Anne served as President of the Northern Counties Photographic Federation from 1996 to 1998.

During all this time, she was also engaged in gaining photographic awards, submitting work to exhibitions, a member of the UPP folio circles, judging at various levels, and giving presentations to clubs in the North of England and Scotland. In 2012, she was awarded the APSA for her excellent service to photography not just within the PSA, but with other photographic organisations such as clubs, councils, federations, national and international societies. Not only were Whitley Bay Photographic Society fortunate in having such a great member but Anne's influence was spread throughout the Northern Counties.

Anne embraced digital photography, learning the techniques and teaching others, as well as forming the Monthly Digital Group at WBPS. Always very generous with her time, she had the ability to encourage others in their photographic endeavours, her extensive knowledge was an encyclopaedia to other members. She was a perfectionist, an enthusiast for photography in all its forms and a very good friend to all who knew her.

The WCPF hold an inter-club Digital Image Competition each February. The event usually attracts around 50 Clubs and is held at the Exeter Corn Exchange, with an audience of over 200. Each club enters 18 images, which are scored by three PAGB accredited judges from outside the Federation. This year the restrictions imposed by the Pandemic meant that we could not hold the physical event so, based partially on the successful use of Zoom by most of our clubs, we decided to go for an online event with remote judging.

We contacted judges who can work remotely and secured the services of Brian Swinyard ARPS DPAGB EFIAP/b, Graham Walton DPAGB and Rod Wheelans MPAGB FRPS MFIAP FIPF. We decided to use the remote judging system developed by Steve Bright of Bright Imaging, as we use the offline version of the software for our Members Exhibition. The event was scheduled for Sunday 7 February, but we felt a live judging in front of a Zoom audience of 200+ was a step too far.

We decided to hold the judging beforehand and produce a “show” to run on the, replicating as near as possible our normal “physical” event. It turned out to be the correct decision when internet gremlins appeared on the judging day, as well as a small hiccup in the awards process. Despite the gremlins, the judges did a fantastic job dealing with a record entry from 58 clubs. Those involved were sworn to secrecy lest the results slip out before the following Sunday.

On the day, our President, Nick Bodle, welcomed more than 350 Zoom participants. The event was split into three sessions over three hours. Each image was shown with the title and score announced, so that the event ran as close as possible to how it would normally run. Feedback since the event has been extremely positive with many viewers who would otherwise have been unable to attend.

RESULTS

Winners – Bristol P.S (226 points)
Runners Up – Dorchester C.C. (215 points)
Best Small Club – Nonpareil (209 points)
Rookie Club (first time entry)
Colyford & District Camera Club (197 points)

A huge vote of thanks to our members Ralph Snook who almost singlehanded took on all computing tasks and to Sandie Cox, Stephen Jones and Ian Bateman who all made the day such a success.

MIKE BIRBECK FRPS FBPPA FDPS 1942 - 2021

It is with great sadness that I have to inform you that Mike Birbeck passed away in January 2021. He will be sorely missed by his family, friends, colleagues and by admirers of his photography.

In 1982, whilst serving in the RAF and shortly after marrying Gillian, Mike's back was broken in a flying accident. Hence, all his photography was from a wheelchair.

He gained many distinctions from the Royal Photographic Society, the British Professional Photographers' Association and the Disabled Photographers' Society and won many medals, including Golds from FIAP, RPS and PAGB. In 2005 he was awarded the prestigious RPS Hood Medal for services to Photography honouring his dedication to The Disabled Photographers' Society and its members. He served as a member of the RPS Licentiate Panel and later on the Associate and Fellowship team of their 'Applied' Distinctions Panel. Mike was an Honorary Life President of the Disabled Photographers' Society after serving on their committee as Chairman for 10 years. He also sat on their Distinction Panel.

He has been a member of Basingstoke Camera Club and Havant Camera Club and has been a member of Taunton Camera Club since 2006, where he served as Chairman for a few years. Mike started lecturing and judging from 1985, on the WCPF and PAGB lists of lecturers and judges. He held one-man exhibitions and taught photography, especially to those with disabilities. Together, he and Gillian manned the hugely successful Disabled Photographers' stand at the NEC Photography Show for nearly 20 years.

Photographically, Mike's main interests were travel, portrait and candid people Shots, but he also enjoyed sailing, archery, flying a microlight and listening to music, especially the Blues genre and the Eagles. He also enjoyed playing the blues harmonica and had started building model railways.

Mike and Gillian enjoyed travelling around Europe in their adapted camper van, indulging in their love of photography and music events. Mike had a rather wonderful three-wheeled BMW motorbike, adapted to take a wheelchair and, very often, you would see him travelling along our West Country roads. Although he was long term disabled, that didn't stop him from enjoying life and helping others. Taunton Camera Club will be poorer for not having Mike around and we offer our special condolences to Gillian. Rest in Peace, Mike!
